rasputeen: gegen die wand

after amazing "das leberwurstbrot" (invasion wreck chords inv025) and brilliant live performance at maschinenfest'05, rasputeen come back with brandnew "gegen die wand"! more minimal and obscure than debut album, "gegen die wand" was produced by well-known philipp muench (synapscape) and features 19 danceable industrial killer-tracks . since "das leberwurstbrot", rasputeen does not stop to surprise you once again and once again. he keep the beat hard and powerful, the melodies nice, and the lyrics deep, funny and sexy in same time. and was said: rasputeen stands for madness, weirdness and energy direct from the belly without intellectual ballast - you don't need to understand german to perceive it. the music is made with electronic instruments and varies from distorted rhythm tracks to oldskool minimal electro. this combination of industrial, rhythmic noise and minimal electronics is really unique and offers a lot of fun and energy. just beautiful from beginning to the end, "gegen die wand" signing a solid and terribly sexy album.
